Call for comments on market capacity and the appropriateness of issuing a call for radio applications to serve Lloydminster, Alberta/Saskatchewan

The Commission has received an application for a broadcasting licence to operate a new commercial radio station to serve Lloydminster, Alberta/Saskatchewan. The Commission is seeking comments on market capacity and the appropriateness of issuing a call for radio applications to serve Lloydminster. The Commission encourages interested persons, as well as the applicant, to submit additional information, which it will take into consideration before making a final determination on whether it should proceed with a call for applications.

The deadline for filing interventions is 15 September 2017. Only parties that file interventions may file a reply to matters raised during the intervention phase. The deadline to file replies is 25 September 2017.

The Commission expects persons interested in serving the Lloydminster radio market to express their interest during the intervention period. If little or no interest to serve that radio market is expressed, the Commission may publish the application for consideration during the non-appearing phase of a public hearing rather than issue a call for applications.

Background

1. In Broadcasting Regulatory Policy 2014-554, the Commission set out its procedure for issuing calls for applications for broadcasting licences to operate radio stations. According to that procedure, applications for new radio stations in markets of all sizes will generally result in the issuance of a call for applications with the following exceptions:
 - proposals with very little or no commercial potential or impact, including some low-power applications;
 - proposals to provide the first commercial service in a market;
 - proposals by the sole commercial operator in a market to improve service to the market, either through an AM to FM conversion or a new station;
 - proposals to provide the first commercial service in the other official language in a market or to convert the only station in the other official language from AM to FM; and

- proposals to convert stations from AM to FM in markets with two or fewer commercial operators.
2. The Commission will also take into account the availability or scarcity of spectrum when considering applications that propose to use one of the last known frequencies in a market. Such applications will not be eligible to be considered under one of the exceptions to the issuance of a call.
 3. Upon receipt of an application that does not fall within one of the exceptions to the issuance of a call, the Commission will publish a notice of consultation to seek comments on market capacity and the appropriateness of issuing a call. The Commission will also publish the following information in the notice of consultation: the applicant's name, the type of service proposed (commercial mainstream or specialty, community, campus, etc.), the technical parameters proposed (frequency, band, broadcast power) and a sampling of the main communities included in the primary contour of the proposed station's coverage.

Application for Lloydminster

4. The Commission announces that it has received the following application for a broadcasting licence to operate a new commercial radio station to serve Lloydminster, Alberta/Saskatchewan:

| Applicant | Type of service | Technical parameters |
|------------------|--------------------------|--|
| Vista Radio Ltd. | Commercial radio station | 103.3 MHz FM with an average effective radiated power (ERP) of 81,000 watts (maximum ERP of 100,000 watts) |

Call for comments

5. The Commission calls for comments on the capacity of Lloydminster to support a new station and on whether it should issue a call for applications for new radio stations to serve this community. The Commission encourages interested persons, as well as the applicant, to submit additional information that it will take into consideration before making a final determination on whether to proceed with a call for applications.
6. Given the limited number of stations operating in Lloydminster, the Commission will not release financial statistics to preserve the confidentiality of station-level information.
7. Following receipt of comments, the Commission will conduct an assessment of the capacity of Lloydminster to support a new station, taking into account economic and financial data as well as the comments received in the public consultation.

8. As indicated in Broadcasting Regulatory Policy 2014-554, the Commission will weigh factors such as market capacity, spectrum availability or scarcity and interest by other parties in serving the market when deciding whether to:
 - publish the application for consideration during the non-appearing phase of a public hearing;
 - issue a call for applications; or
 - make a determination that the market cannot sustain additional stations, return the application and issue a decision setting out this determination.

Procedure

9. The Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission Rules of Practice and Procedure (the Rules of Procedure) apply to the present proceeding. The Rules of Procedure set out, among other things, the rules for content, format, filing and service of interventions, answers, replies and requests for information; the procedure for filing confidential information and requesting its disclosure; and the conduct of public hearings. Accordingly, the procedure set out below must be read in conjunction with the Rules of Procedure and related documents, which can be found on the Commission's website under "Statutes and Regulations." The guidelines set out in Broadcasting and Telecom Information Bulletin 2010-959 provide information to help interested persons and parties understand the Rules of Procedure so that they can more effectively participate in Commission proceedings.
10. The Commission invites interventions that address the issues and questions set out above. The Commission will accept interventions that it receives on or before 15 September 2017. Only parties that file interventions may file a reply to matters raised during the intervention phase. The deadline for the filing of replies is 25 September 2017.
11. The Commission encourages interested persons and parties to monitor the record of the proceeding, available on the Commission's website, for additional information that they may find useful when preparing their submissions.
12. Submissions longer than five pages should include a summary. Each paragraph of all submissions should be numbered, and the line End of document should follow the last paragraph. This will help the Commission verify that the document has not been damaged during electronic transmission.
13. Pursuant to Broadcasting and Telecom Information Bulletin 2015-242, the Commission expects incorporated entities and associations, and encourages all Canadians, to file submissions for Commission proceedings in accessible formats (for example, text-based file formats that allow text to be enlarged or modified, or read by screen readers). Accordingly, parties must keep proof of the sending and receipt of each document for 180 days after the date on which the document is filed. The Commission advises parties who file and serve documents by electronic means to exercise caution when using email for the service of documents, as it may be difficult to establish that service has occurred.
